

Presenting 2

This icon indicates that the slide contains activities created in Flash. These activities are not editable.

This icon indicates that a slide contains audio.

This icon indicates coverage of the Language Standards.

This icon indicates that a worksheet accompanies the slide.

This icon indicates teacher's notes in the Notes field.

This icon indicates an opportunity for collaboration or group work.

College and Career Readiness Standards for Speaking and Listening:

4. Present information, findings, and supporting evidence such that listeners can follow the line of reasoning and the organization, development, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.
5. Make strategic use of digital media and visual displays of data to express information and enhance understanding of presentations.
6. Adapt speech to a variety of contexts and communicative tasks, demonstrating command of formal English when indicated or appropriate.

Do you know what a tongue twister is?

A tongue twister is a phrase that is hard to say because the words share similar sounds. If you try to say the phrase, your tongue gets twisted up!

Try saying “Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers” three times.

This is an example of a tongue twister.
Do you know any others?

Practicing tongue twisters could help you speak more clearly when you give a presentation!

How can she make her presentation more interesting?

Tell the story

Complete sentences

Presenting checklist

